

Josefin (Delara) 2023

Hun danser som en virvelvind
(She's dancing like a whirlwind)
Vet presis¹ hva hun gjør når hun kysser ditt kinn
(Knows exactly what she's doing when she kisses your cheek)
Du svever fram aldri før så lett
(You're floating forward never before so light)
Si, har du sett noen så fin?
(Say, have you seen anyone so beautiful?)
Om du ser henne, forsøk å la bli
(If you see her, try to let go)
Du faller som et sommerregn, tilbringer dager i hennes seng
(You're falling like a summer rain, spending days in her bed)
Sier til deg selv at det her går lett
(Telling yourself that this is going to be easy)
Si, har du sett noen så fin?
(Say, have you seen anyone so beautiful?)
Om du ser henne, forsøk å la bli
(If you see her, try to let go)
Men hun svinger som en sambatakt
(But she's swinging like a samba beat)
Og du ser deg i speilet med selvforakt
(And you see yourself in the mirror with self-contempt)
Millioner av ord du skulle gjerne ha sagt
(Millions of words you wish you had said)
Si, har du sett noen så fin?
(Say, have you seen anyone so beautiful?)
Om du ser henne, forsøk å la bli
(If you see her, try to let go)

Hun forsvant like fort som en morgendag
(She disappeared as fast as the next day (a tomorrow))
Jeg drukna mine sorger på danskens bar
(I drowned my sorrows at the Dane's bar)
Så dro jeg hjem til mor og far
(Then I went home to my mother and father)
Her er jeg nå, tar min tid
(Here I am now, taking my time)
Og lover meg selv ... å la bli
(And promise myself ... to let go)

¹ Here the adjective presis (without -t) is used as an adverb. Probably due to influence from the Swedish adverb form precis.
